National Association of Psychiatric Health Systems (NAPHS) Recognizes Member for Grassroots Behavioral Health Advocacy

(Washington, DC, March 15, 2010).....The National Association of Psychiatric Health Systems (NAPHS) last week presented the 2010 NAPHS Grassroots Leadership Award to Stephen W. Larcen, Ph.D., president & CEO, Natchaug Hospital, Inc.. and vice president, behavioral health, Hartford Healthcare, Mansfield Center, CT. The award recognizes an individual whose actions demonstrate strong commitment to improving the lives of individuals who face mental and substance use disorders. The award was presented at the NAPHS Annual Meeting in Washington, DC.

In announcing the award, NAPHS President/CEO Mark Covall noted that successful advocates are active in their communities and work to develop relationships with all key stakeholders. "These relationships are not built overnight, but take time and effort to foster. Change happens because of the action of individuals, and we are proud of Dr. Larcen's contributions."

Dr. Larcen was recognized for his efforts to elevate the importance of grassroots advocacy within the association and for taking direct, personal action to educate members of Congress about issues – such as mental health parity and emergency psychiatric care – that have a direct impact on whether people have access, coverage, and fair funding for quality mental health services.

The National Association of Psychiatric Health Systems (NAPHS) advocates for behavioral health and represents provider systems that are committed to the delivery of responsive, accountable, and clinically effective prevention, treatment, and care for children, adolescents, adults, and older adults with mental and substance use disorders. Its members are behavioral healthcare provider organizations that own or manage more than 600 specialty psychiatric hospitals, general hospital psychiatric and addiction treatment units and behavioral healthcare divisions, residential treatment facilities, youth services organizations, and extensive outpatient networks.
